About the Cover

Plants and flowers are amazing in their tenacity to live. It is an incredible sight to see a flower growing up through a city sidewalk. Is this a picture of the resilience of modern man adapting to the most adverse of conditions, or is this a sad sight because you know the little plant would do much better in a well-watered garden? But if you look a little closer, it is a picture of the Kingdom of God breaking through this concrete jungle of a world, against all odds.

the Pink

Flannel Flower

THE TENDER pink flannel flower bloomed this year. It is found only in a small region of eastern Australia. This flower will usually bloom only once or possibly twice in a person's lifetime. The seeds of this delicate flower lie dormant in the harsh desert soil and will only spring up after a rare synchronized sequence of extreme natural occurrences. First, there must be intense bushfires with much smoke, followed by a season of very heavy rain. Then, amidst the ashes, the new life begins to sprout! Breaking through the charred and drenched landscape, the hidden seeds burst forth into bloom — vibrantly giving hope and beauty. They are a reminder that something very beautiful can be born from the deepest crisis, a sign of the resilient power of life after severe devastation.

We are in troubled times on this planet, yet there is hope for something beautiful to bloom in the hearts of humanity. It comes from the special seed hidden deep in a tender heart, awaiting just the right conditions to break forth and respond. ✨

THE LAST DAYS

Confusing Times

Life is hard. When the world has lost its moral compass, it can be brutal. But when you've also become confused and lost your sense of moral absolutes, it's trouble of a different kind.

Untrusted Leaders

Each side accuses the other. Every mistake is overblown, every good deed mocked. Which side is lying? A quiet voice tells us that a person should respect his leaders and never mock those in authority over him. Other voices shout louder.

Information Control

One source tells us something. A second source tells us the first source is actually a schemer and liar. A third comes and forcibly silences the second, in the name of freedom and truth itself. Who decides what is misinformation? Who controls the story?

Accusations Flying

Who is to blame: the criminal or the police officer who stops him? Or the father of the criminal who ran off and never taught his son right and wrong? Or am I to blame for just doing nothing?

THE FAMILY

Covenants Abandoned

Once it was noble to be faithful in marriage. Now, society has other ways of doing relationships. Are these newer ways really improvements?

LIGHT IS DARK

Stealing and Destroying

At a young age, children can be taught to share their things, to take turns, and to respect the property of others. These lessons become virtues which last a lifetime.

What confusion results when the opposite lesson is taught: when it's wrong to own something and when it's right to take it away from them.

If the moral lessons of life are not taught at a young age, childhood attitudes grow into adult vices.

Brutal Gossip

Telling people what they don't need to know is gossip. Words can deeply hurt a person. With texts and messaging, brutal gossip can go on undetected or go viral, whichever is desired. Is it good to boldly "say it like it is" (or how you think it is) even when you destroy someone's reputation? Or is that bad?

GUILT IS THE FRIEND YOU DON'T WANT AROUND LONG.
IT ALERTS YOU TO GREATER PROBLEMS THAT LIE AHEAD.

WITHOUT A WORKING COMPASS, YOU'RE LOST

GOOD WILL BE CALLED EVIL, AND EVIL GOOD

If you lose the internal awareness of what is right and what is wrong, it's very difficult to keep your conscience clean. The guilt builds up. Guilt is like the pain of a toothache. The pain is not the problem, but alerts you to the problem of the tooth. Guilt is not the culprit any more than the pain of the tooth is. To address the pain and not the tooth doesn't really help. Fix the tooth and the pain goes away. The guilt-burdened soul cries out for proper attention, which brings justice and peace. This is why the soul of a man cannot rest until his conscience has been satisfied by a payment. Like a prosecuting attorney, the conscience will not drop its case until it is sure that justice has been done.

Guilt is an essential part of our natural moral makeup. Without it we would be like a smoke detector with no alarm. But guilt is a temporary condition to convey a message. It is the soul's pain, as when touching something hot, designed to give us warning to change our actions. It is a great blessing to feel guilt — a sign of life, a healthy response. If we change the standards to sooth our sense of guilt, do we really erase it, or merely drive it underground?

Although unwelcome at times, guilt can actually be a friend. When each of us faces the judgment someday, we will have no excuse: we knew what is good and what is bad. That is, unless we have ruined our sensitivity by silencing our conscience.

HUMANITY IS BEING STEWED...

Just like frog stew, the frog doesn't know he's gonna get cooked when he jumps in that pot of water. It starts out nice and cool, but slowly and steadily the temperature increases...

If he were put into boiling water, he'd jump right out, quickly aware of the danger. But instead, if the temperature gradually rises, he comfortably adapts to each new and changing degree... Before he even knows what's happening, it's too late — he's FROG STEW!

THERE IS A MYSTERIOUS FORCE at work in society called leveling. What is considered “acceptable” in society today would have been shocking just a generation ago. Modern man is becoming a product of media consumption, deceived into thinking that he is living a rich life. Every bit of one's own passion and potential has been cleverly drained from childhood through schemes and devices from YouTube and video games to political podcasts and complex documentaries.

Alone with his phone, he is left worthless as far as accomplishing anything true and real is concerned. A leveled person becomes good frog stew, never making waves as passions are re-channeled into empty pursuits. Becoming active in fantasy but passive in reality, the masses are eventually leveled out...

Yet, while society is being masterfully herded towards a frightening “Brave New World,” the wholehearted movement which began in the first century has begun to be restored!

We are not calling for a rebellion or uprising. We are calling for absolute surrender of your whole life to the will of the Creator.

This is the beginning of the restoration of all things — men and women, families and single people, from every nation standing as one. We are overcoming the real enemy together.

THE ENEMY IS IN US...
THE ENEMY IS SELFISHNESS...

No Man Knows the Day or Hour

Ever since the Savior departed, saying that he would return, man has asked,

When?

Early believers hoped it would be within their lifetime, but it did not happen.

The year 1,000 AD saw a lot of hysteria as the ignorant masses dreaded his return. Over the past 200 years there have been confident predictions of his return that have been explained away with embarrassing excuses. The year 2,000 AD (or Y2K) saw a lot of speculation, perhaps even a little worry, all for nothing. As recently as 2011, people were holding up signs in major parking lots proclaiming his return on a specific day. But again, nothing happened, and everything continues as usual.<sup>1</sup>

Perhaps in response, modern Christians often quote, “No man knows the day or hour” of his return as the final word. But the same Bible also states, “But you brothers are not in darkness so that day overtakes you like a thief.” And the Messiah himself rebuked men who could predict the weather but not interpret the signs of the times.

How about you? Can you discern the times? Can anyone confidently say the end is near? Consider these prophecies, which show how things will be at “the time of the end”:

“Seal up the book until the time of the end. Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall increase.” (Daniel 12:4)

If ever a time matched Daniel’s prophecy, it is now. For thousands of years global travel has been nearly impossible, always slow and difficult, and often dangerous. Now you can hop on a plane and be anywhere on the planet within 24 hours.

What about the increase of knowledge? The average child holds in his hand more computing power than was available to put a man on the moon in 1969. Doubt this claim? Google it.

Daniel 2:44 states that “in the last days” a kingdom will arise that “shall never be destroyed; and this kingdom shall not be left to other people; it shall break in pieces and consume all other kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

This kingdom is the major focus of the Messiah’s words. He said, “This message of the kingdom shall be proclaimed in all the world as a demonstration, and then the end will come.” Not just a bunch of talk, but a new thing on the earth: a life of love and unity in a whole new social order.

Just after his resurrection, his followers began just such a life, abandoning all their dreams, ambitions, and possessions to put his words into practice: “Love one another as I have loved you.” It was a common life, the beginning of a powerful spiritual kingdom on earth that threatened Satan’s sway upon all earthly kingdoms. It is often called “the Early Church.” But it was short-lived and faded away into history. Why? Selfishness, man’s age-old flaw, crept back in. Compromise with the Messiah’s words became commonplace, until nothing remained except the dry religious practices that continue to this day.

As we hastily run to and fro, with the knowledge of the world at our fingertips, who can sense the times in which we live? The earth is groaning under the greed and corruption that is draining her resources, as the clock ticks... Is there any hope of this kingdom coming, which will bring an end to the confusion and violence increasing all around us?

Look around you. Do you see the common life of the Kingdom of God anywhere? It is man’s only hope.

But here’s the good news: that life of love and unity is back on the earth. We see it. Maybe you can, too. 🌿

Come and Follow Me

THOSE EARLY DISCIPLES knew of our Father's love for them because Yahshua directly called them out of their purposeless lives. He called them to begin to be trained to be rulers who rule with righteousness and justice. He taught and instructed them, intimately involved in every detail of their lives daily. There He was, in human flesh, in reality, dealing with them, their flesh, their reality. He was calling them up, changing them from being broken and downtrodden to become His ambassadors who would carry out the most awesome and weighty purpose — to care for and establish the restoration of the church.

His exhortations, rebuke, and admonishment for them as they walked along those dusty roads were how they came to experience the reality of our Father's love for them. He would not let them settle and sink back into old wrong ways they had left behind. He restored their dignity. He was actually freeing them from the grip of sin by calling them to account for their selfish ways. He wouldn't let Peter shrink back from the call of love and hide behind his fishing nets. He wouldn't let them continue on with strife over who would be the greatest. He humbled them. He didn't leave room for them to have any worldly ambitions or concepts. He wouldn't let them sweep anything under the rug, but used it all as opportunity to help them see the purpose for which He had called them.

He was right there with them, watching them, caring for them, shepherding them. He had authority to bring them along and gather them as one flock.

He would continually orient them to care for the needy, which usually meant one another. He left no room for their old independent ways. They were handled. He made them overcome because they were needed. He disciplined them... and they were His disciples.

They loved Him for it. He loved them first and taught them what love really was. And He was right there to wash their feet. Real hands, real water, on real dirty feet. He would cleanse them of the attitudes and wrong ways of thinking so they could be clean through and through. And even greater, He taught them how to stay clean. Would you have wanted to hear him say to you, “Come and follow Me!”

But the greatest thing is that He was putting a foundation into His disciples so that they would go and do as they had been taught, having and teaching that same kind of intimate love to others. He wouldn't let them just be recipients of love. He made them go and love others the same way that they had been loved. His ministry was meant to start a fire on the earth that would grow and grow, even perpetuate into eternity. This was the one and only foundation of the Church. (The church-on-Sunday model has no place for this kind of love, nor did the synagogue-on-Saturday model.) This sort of gathering, love, instruction, and care is what the Holy Spirit will inspire wherever He is. If the church is any other way, it is not really His church. He came to establish His church upon this Rock, and for it He paid the price. So if it is not His church, whose church is it?

A restoration is now taking place so that you too can come to experientially know the love of our Father.

YAHSHUA

Our Savior

---

You may have read about Jesus in the Bible. We call the Savior by his Hebrew name, Yahshua. Since it is the name above all names, and the only name under heaven that saves a person, we really feel it is important to know his correct name. His parents spoke Hebrew, the angel who came spoke Hebrew,<sup>1</sup> and even Yahshua himself spoke Hebrew.<sup>2</sup> So his name was a Hebrew name. It means – “mighty and powerful to save.”

It is not just a matter of pronunciation. When the name changed from Yahshua to Jesus, people started changing what he meant and what he stood for.

We want to lift up the True One, Yahshua, who truly saves.

<sup>1</sup>Matthew 1:21 <sup>2</sup>Acts 26:17

Do you wonder what's going on?

YOU KNOW there are powerful people scheming somewhere up there, pulling the strings behind the scenes. But you can't really get to the bottom of it.

THE EVIDENCE

was covered up.

Without evidence, you can't prove it.

Then a whistle-blower appears, exposing the inside story. But then, how do you know the informer isn't just offended and seeking revenge? Or... could he be part of the plot, shifting the focus away from other things just how "they" want?

Conspiracies can drive you crazy. For sure they exist. But don't get into them. Don't try to unravel them. You'll read and read, and never get to the bottom of it. You'll waste your time, probably lose friends and definitely some peace of mind.

UNSEEN

At the top of all conspiracies is the Grand Conspirator. The whole world lies under the sway of the Evil One (1 John 5:19). He is an unseen spiritual force. He works wherever he can get a foothold. He leads the world astray, in their thoughts and actions.

If the educational system, the governments, the media, and your own inclinations were all in coordination with this evil force, it would be very, very difficult to resist the influence. You might even find it easier and more convenient to just yield to it. But that would make you part of the conspiracy, wouldn't it?

An evil spiritual force is behind it all, leading the world astray.

Are you provoked to action?

IN THE END, LOVE WILL PREVAIL

Like a freight train barreling towards destruction, so is our modern world.

With such a magnitude of globalized forces, and so much momentum behind technology, who can stand in the way?

In the struggle for justice, there are many zealots with their causes, striving for change, yet humanity plows on, leaving a trail of wreckage in our wake.

With such a bloody history,
what does the future hold?

We who write this paper are not living to make this world a better place. We do not believe this current world order can be fixed; we look forward to its end.
We are living to see the dawn of a new age – the age of peace when Messiah will return to restore all things which are now fallen. The frightening events that shake the world were foretold by the prophets of ancient Israel. The prophets also spoke of the re-emerging of God's people, gathered from all nations in the last days, as a foretaste of the age to come.

■ Those who saw the course mankind was taking were provoked to take action, yet eventually it dawned in their hearts that man cannot save himself

This prophetic voice is now on the earth again, and the message is the same as it was since the beginning. It is a call to be severed from this dying world and be joined to a whole new society, where brothers and sisters dwell together in unity and lay their lives down for one another daily. This is the cause for which Messiah came, and for this cause we give all we have. Compelled by our love for him, we willingly forsake anything that would hold us back — personal pursuits, goals, dreams and ambitions, even unwilling relatives. Our devotion to the Messiah must be undivided if we are to fulfill the cry of his heart: To be one as he and the Father are one.

Can mankind think of any human plan or endeavor that will bring about everlasting peace? The Creator holds the royal patent on the only true healing of mankind. Our Creator has a very clear plan. His messenger, Yahshua the Messiah, has commanded us to surrender all, to give our lives fully to him and obey his every command. In response to his call, all of our time, energy, problems, and possessions are shared in the commonwealth of a new Israel.

Throughout history, those who saw the course mankind was taking were provoked to take action, yet eventually it dawned in their hearts that man cannot save himself. They are the ones who will understand the message of the prophets.

A message of hope has come for those who would gladly give all of their heart, soul, and strength to see an end to all injustice. That is only possible on the narrow way that leads to life everlasting. It is the way of the cross, which exposes the folly of thinking that man is able to deliver himself by his own devices. Only by responding to the voice of the prophets can a man be delivered. This is the Good News proclaimed and demonstrated by Yahshua's people in these last days — a people bonded together in love, enduring the injustice of this age as they prepare for the age to come.

What will it take to bring human misery to an end? Is it even possible? The Messiah was convinced of it, and gave everything He had to see it come about. Now it is up to us to finish what He began. And like Him, we are willing to surrender all.

Are you?

CLEANSING OUR TOXIC ENVIRONMENT

Toxins are everywhere. They affect us all. We can't escape them. No amount of laws and regulations can undo all the damage that's been done so far.

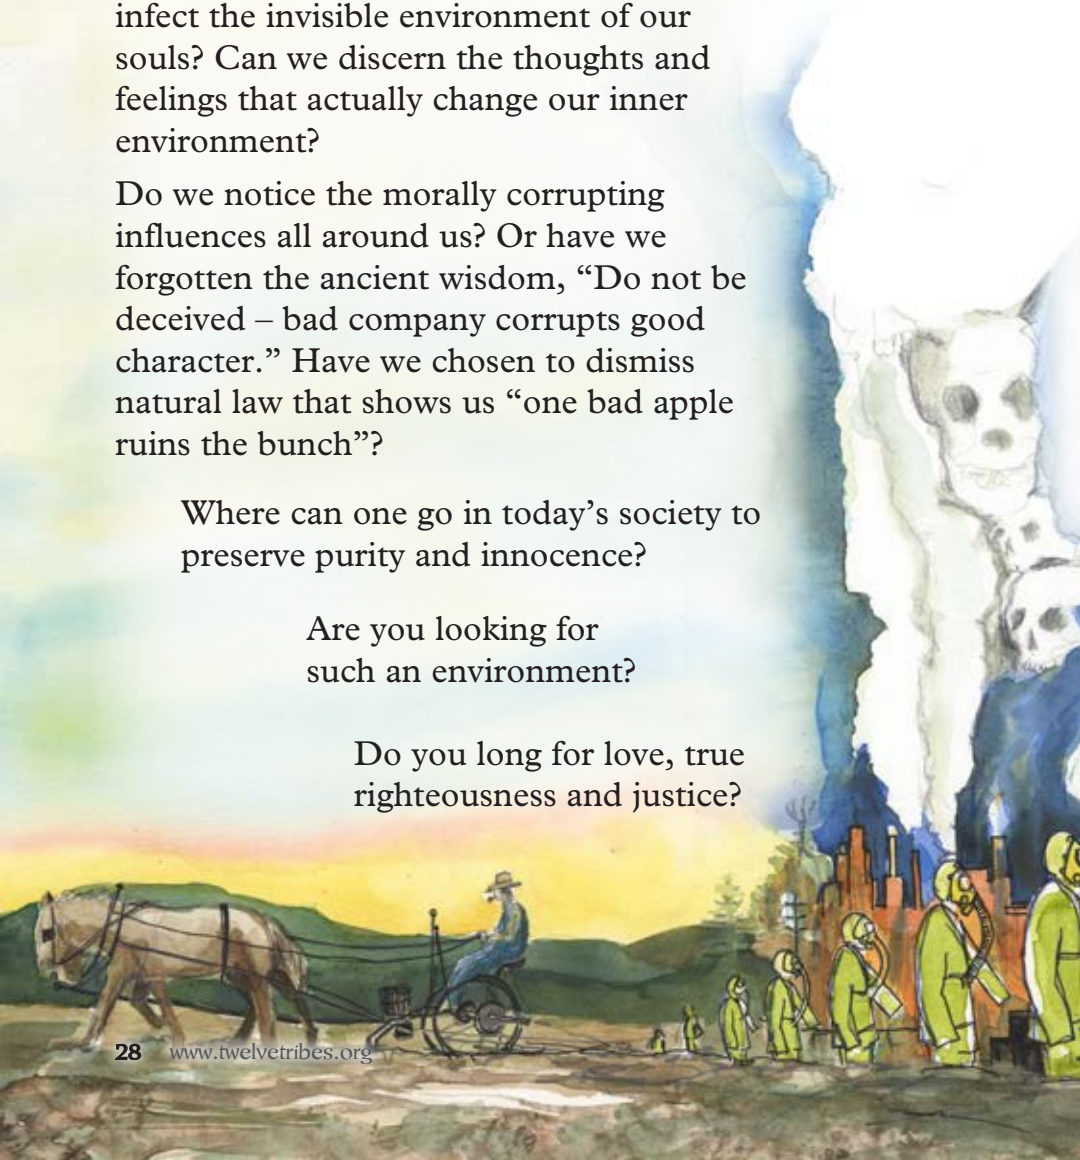

Yet who can recognize the pollutants that infect the invisible environment of our souls? Can we discern the thoughts and feelings that actually change our inner environment?

Do we notice the morally corrupting influences all around us? Or have we forgotten the ancient wisdom, "Do not be deceived – bad company corrupts good character." Have we chosen to dismiss natural law that shows us "one bad apple ruins the bunch"?

Where can one go in today's society to preserve purity and innocence?

Are you looking for such an environment?

Do you long for love, true righteousness and justice?

We who write this paper do! We desire with all our heart to be peacemakers and love others. We recognized that our selfish thoughts and self-centered ways were toxic to our souls. We hated how we infected others so easily. We longed for a place of innocence. We strove to keep that environment pure.

We came to the realization that the life we used to live here on Earth had no meaning. We came to the end of pretending, or trying to pretend that it did. We were comforted by the words of the true Messiah,

“Most assuredly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it produces much grain. He who loves his life will lose it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.”

(John 12:24-25)

We came to the place of hating our lives in this world. We hated how we hurt others.

If you, too, have come to the place of hating your life in this world, there is hope! Please come and see for yourself the awesome healing power of the true gospel. Humans are being restored on the earth in these last days. We warmly invite you to partake in the forgiveness and peace we have received. Once again people are laying hold of the only true sacrifice for sins. We have given our whole lives in order to know the one who made us. We believe God is love! All we want to do is love ! Love will prevail!

THERE IS A PEOPLE who woke up this morning with one thing on their minds — to love their Creator with all their heart, mind, and strength, and to love one another just as He loved them. Being just ordinary human beings, we are far from perfect in our love, yet, in hope, we persevere. Our goal? That the kingdom of God would come on earth as it is in heaven, so that love and justice can rule on the earth. Sound impossible? It would be, were it not that the Son of God came to earth to redeem mankind, to set us free from the curse of sin, and to enable us to love. Because we have come to see His worth and our own desperate need, we have surrendered everything in order to follow Him. Our hearts and our homes are open night and day to any who are interested in our life or are weary of their sin and want to know the purpose for which they were created.
